

The Psychological Services and Counselling Training Centre presents

Writing Effective, User-Friendly Assessment Reports

The Psychological Services & Counselling Training Centre (PSCTC) at the University of British Columbia is excited to host a panel featuring Drs. Kallista Bell, Kimberley DaSilva, Laurie Ford, and Roberta Borgen on the topic of writing effective, user-friendly assessment reports. Panelists will draw from a diverse range of backgrounds and experiences to offer their insights on skills for assessment report writing. This workshop is approved by CCPA to qualify for Continuing Education Credits. The PSCTC is pending approval by the Canadian Psychological Association to offer continuing education for psychologists.

Monday February 7th

4:30pm - 6:00pm PST

Register online for the virtual workshop!

$25 Faculty & Community Members

$10 Students

Dr. Kallista
Bell

Dr. Kimberley
Da Silva

Dr. Laurie
Ford

Dr. Roberta
Borgen

Meet Our Panelists

Kallista Bell, PhD, RPsych

Dr. Kallista Bell is a Registered Psychologist (CPBC #2227) trained in clinical psychology at Simon Fraser University (SFU). She completed additional specialization and training in child/developmental clinical psychology. Dr. Bell works in private practice in the Comox Valley, completing psychoeducational assessments and providing therapy to adolescents and adults. In addition to her private therapy and assessment practice, Dr. Bell has provided contract assessments to multiple school districts.

Kimberley Da Silva, PhD, RPsych

Dr. Da Silva completed her Ph.D. at Simon Fraser University and her clinical internship at BC Children's Hospital. She dedicates part of her practice to providing psycho-educational assessments for developmental, behavioural, and learning concerns (e.g., ADHD, learning disabilities, giftedness). This includes cognitive and academic testing, as well as reports that can be used to advocate for accommodations and support. She also conducts assessments for young adults transitioning to university/college settings.

Laurie Ford, PhD

Laurie on faculty in the Educational and Counselling Psychology and Special Education Department at UBC where she is Director of the Ph.D Program in School and Applied Child Psychology and Director of Early Childhood Education. She is past chair of the Educational and School Psychology section of CPA and currently a member of the CPA Board of Directors. A focus of her teaching and research through out her career has been on family centred and culturally responsive practice.

Roberta Borgen, PhD

Dr. Roberta Borgen is an Adjunct Professor in Counselling Psychology and Director of the Psychological Services and Counselling Training Centre at UBC, as well as President of Life Strategies Ltd., an award-winning BC-based organization with international reach in training and supporting career development professionals and counsellors.